

EXECUTIVE OPPORTUNITY

Provincial Librarian Halifax, Nova Scotia Competition #PSC PL-SR-10

Come to Life in Nova Scotia! We are seeking an experienced, dynamic librarian to provide leadership in the delivery of public library services in Nova Scotia. Your proven ability as a strategic leader and critical thinker have prepared you well for this new challenge. You have demonstrated the ability to integrate strategic thinking into operational plans and bring key stakeholders on side. You are a person of vision who promotes innovation by setting challenging organization targets and effectively managing resources. You are an effective communicator who has demonstrated a commitment to meaningful consultation, collaboration and outstanding social awareness. You garner respect and lead with courage and conviction.

As the Provincial Librarian you will partner with public librarians and other information professionals to provide for the evolving information needs of Nova Scotians. In this role you will be responsible for providing leadership in the area of library technology. You will also manage the operation of the Provincial Library, which provides expert consulting services, centralized cataloguing and database management and training to client libraries, as well as administering $10.6 million in grants to regional public libraries.

As the ideal candidate, you possess a post graduate degree from an ALA-accredited program of library and information studies plus substantial experience in progressively responsible positions, including several years in a senior capacity managing a team of professionals and at least five years in a library setting. Public library experience is preferred. This position requires an individual with strong management skills, including budgeting, human resource management, long range planning, change management and policy development. You must have experience in community relations and library governance.

The closing date for this competition is August 1, 2005. Please forward your resume and a letter of introduction, in confidence, to:
