Using Evaluation Results to Communicate Your Value: Part Two: Needs Assessment with Roz Dudden

A recognized expert in the field of assessment, benchmarking and measures of success, Roz started last week with necessary discussions to create a "Culture of Assessment" in your workplace. This week she will discuss how to conduct a needs assessment and how to use the results for planning. Rosalind Dudden is Library Services Director at the National Jewish Medical and Research Center in Denver, CO.

Thursday, June 12th at 1:00 pm ET Web Conference

E-Learning for Librarians: An Ideas Playground with Cory Laverty

E-learning is defined as the facilitation of learning through on-line tools and content. Many of us have created virtual library modules on different topics such as stages in the research process, overviews of information tools in a specific discipline, or guides on searching individual databases. This session will explore an e-learning wiki sponsored by the Canadian Association of Research Libraries where librarians can share their knowledge and creativity. Everyone benefits! Everyone grows professionally!

Monday, June 16th at 2:00 pm ET Audio Conference

Pro-Active Relationship Building: Reaching Out to Academic Faculty Clients with Joan Giannone

Academic Library users are becoming more and more adept at the use of technology, and many view their own research and Internet search skills as being adequate to their needs. This audio session is designed to highlight ways in which Academic libraries can use persuasive communication strategies to solidify and even expand their role in today's new higher educational environment.

WEB CONFERENCE COURSE
