

CHECK OUT THESE SESSIONS NEXT WEEK!

REGISTER AT WWW.EDUCATIONINSTITUTE.CA

Monday October 27, 2008 at 3:00 PM ET

Audio Conference

Research Ethics: An Overview of Issues and Policies with Lisa Given

This session will explore the nature of research ethics and current ethics policies affecting projects in Canadian libraries. How does the concept of research ethics apply in a library context? What is involved in the ethics review process? What can libraries do to implement ethical procedures for research?

Tuesday October 28, 2008 at 1:00 PM ET

Web Conference

Creative Commons (CC): Copyright Alternative with Michael Sauers

How can you use CC to find material that you can legally reuse in the creation of new content? Michael Sauers will talk about the principles of Creative Commons and will show how you can easily apply it to intellectual property today.

Wednesday October 29, 2008 at 2:00 PM ET

Audio Conference

Meeting the Needs with At-Risk Readers with Maya Junyk

How do you encourage at-risk readers? Participants will become aware of issues related to material selection, receive motivational tips for students on how to read using effective research-based reading strategies, be challenged to re-examine the kinds of materials available in your libraries and learn how to attract at-risk readers back to reading!

Thursday October 30, 2008 at 3:00 PM ET

Web Conference

The Twitch Generation and Jacqueline Guest with Jacqueline Guest

Jacqueline Guest, a young adult author, writes for “the twitch generation”! Translated, that means teens and tweens! In this talk, Jacqueline will discuss how to increase engagement of reluctant readers – even grade four boys! Learn about novels for Aboriginal Education students to enjoy. Plus, learn how to help aspiring writers discover the tools and topics involved in writing for today’s readers.

