

Free Public Lecture

The Natural History of a Sustainable Institution:

The Nova Scotian Institute of (Natural) Science since 1862

Dr. Suzanne Zeller

Professor of History, Wilfrid Laurier University

Mayflower [emblem of NSIS], The Thousand Eyes Project
<http://www.thousandeyes.ca/>

The 150th anniversary of the Nova Scotian Institute of Science offers an opportunity to consider its timely foundation, subsequent achievements, and remarkable longevity. Its history illuminates an interplay between responsiveness to broader cultural trends and persistent dedication to the importance of modernity in a particular place.

Wed., November 21, 2012

7:30pm

Potter Auditorium, Rowe Building
6100 University Ave., Halifax, N. S.

This lecture has been jointly sponsored by:

